Environmental policy

For the educational department the following applies as well:

The awareness of environmental goals is to be built up gradually through experience, insight and action. Everyones perspectives will be broadened from the narrow daily environment to global environment issues. Working with environmental issues is ultimately a question about survival, about creating good living conditions and durable future for all of us.

This policy urges us to work in order to:

- learn from each other and act as role models
- work in a healthpromoting way
- ensure that environmental thinking guides all our work
